This fall, Augustana proudly welcomes back our returning students, and members of the class of 2015. They are the thinkers, innovators and leaders of tomorrow. We are honored they made the decision to join us and …

Go Viking.

We believe that certain individuals are called to “Go Viking.”

Individuals like Sioux Falls native Mo Hurley, an English and philosophy major, shown here while studying in Athens, Greece, in early 2011.

It’s an idea that means much more than the age-old notion of sailing off in search of trade and plunder. To “Go Viking” means to be venturesome ... to explore, discover, create and pursue bold concepts and important endeavors.
